Sixty Eighth Congress Assembles Today

INVESTIGATORS MAKE REPORTS ON FINDINGS

Congress Listens To Reports of Eight Committees.

SHORT SESSION

Further Hearings Into Campaign Expenditures Will Be Held Shortly After Congress Convenes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—During the short sessions of congress beginning today eight special senate investigating committees will be required to submit final reports on their findings. At the last session of congress ten investigations were authorized and only two of them were completed.

The "diploma mill" inquiry, of which Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, was chairman, concluded hearings and recommended two bills to congress, neither of which has passed: One bill would prohibit the circulation through the mails of "diploma mill" literature and the other would create a council of universities and colleges to fix standards for educational institutions in the District of Columbia.

The Veterans Bureau investigation was completed by the committee of which Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, was chairman, and the evidence turned over to the courts.

The uncompleted hearings are those dealing with the government oil leases in the Teapot Dome and California fields, administration of the Department of Justice under former Attorney General Daugherty's charges of fraud in the sale of Texas lands, conduct of the Internal Revenue Bureau, campaign expenditures, the Mayfield election contests, Russian propaganda in the United States, and charges of the use of propaganda to influence legislation.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, who made charges of fraud in the sale of Texas lands, is determined to have the hearings pressed forward during the short session. Exhaustive hearings were held during the last session and adjournment was taken during the summer recess.

GERMAN WORKERS CONSIDER STRIKE

Marx-Stresemann Government Has Been Able to Do Nothing to Reduce Living Costs.

BERLIN, Dec. 1. (AP)—It is now generally conceded thta the Marx-Stresemann government has been able to do almost nothing to reduce the cost of living. Whatever may be the cause, the tendency of prices for articles of food and clothing is a rising one.

This fact is producing great uneasiness in the ranks of organized workers. The trade unions of every political shade have decided that they will fight all along the line for an increase of wages. They declare that they do this with the greatest reluctance, and only because the promised reduction of prices has not taken place.

A few examples will illustrate what the industrial worker confronts. One of the best organizations is that of the railway workers. Its members are divided into four classes, skilled, semi-skilled, unskilled, and female workers. The average hourly wages pair are: skilled, 16 cents; semi-skilled, 13 13 cents; unskilled, 12 cents, and women, 9 cents. Again, a skilled metal worker receives 13 cents an hour and an unskilled female worker 7 cents.

Farms Are Visited By Census Takers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Taking the measure of the farmers and the farms of the country, in accordance with an act of congress requiring the enumeration of a census of agriculture every five years began today and will continue until completed, which is expected to be on or before January 31 of 1925.

Habeas Corpus Held Valid In Gibson Station Case

Federal Judge Upholds Writ for Four Middlesboro Men.

HELD FOR MURDER

Case Grew Out of Shooting of Saylor and the Littrells In February On the Virginia Pike.

Federal Judge Cochran of the Eastrn Kentucky district, upheld habeas corpus proceedings in favor of the four Middlesboro men held in connection with the shooting last February of W. B. Saylor, state prohibiation agent, and William and John Littrell, father and son of Gibson Station, Virginia.

The judge dismissed the case at the London term of the federal court now in session. The four men, D. C. Sellers, H. H. Overton, Leslie Bishop and R. S. Saylor, are all of Bell county.

The state possemen were acting with Prohibition Agent Saylor when the shooting occurred. The state held them on the charge of murder, pending a decision whether the Kentucky or Virginia state officers, or federal officers wolud take charge of them.

BURLEY MARKET OPEN LEXINGTON

Offerings This Year Superior to Last Year's Crop—300,000 Lbs. On Floors.

LEXINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—The 1924, independent tobacco market, with approximately 300,000 pounds on the floors of the five local independent warehouses, opened today.

The burley offerings were generally superior to last year's crop, tobacco men said. The highest price paid this morning was $38 per hundred pounds.

Hill Grocery Destroyed by Fire

A story and a half building on Twenty-first street, occupied by A. D. Hill, was completely destroyed by fire of an undetermined origin this morning at 2:15 a. m.

The building is the property of the Jellico Grocery company. Mr. Hill rented the building from them. He used the front part of the building for a grocery and the back for living quarters. The family were not at home when the fire broke out.

Insurance amounting to $1,200 covered the groceries and the house hold goods were insured for $500. The firemen worked for three hours on the fire. The water was at high presure so the fire company were able to ply large streams of water upon the adjoining buildings thus preventing the spread of the flames.

French Mannequins To Delight Paris

BERLIN, Dec. 1. (AP)—German horse owners would like to engage British jockeys to ride their mounts but are prevented by a ruling of the English Jockey Club, adopted during the war and still operative. Hence the club is to be approached with the suggestion that the rule be rescinded.

British zboxers are today given warm welcome in Germany, and British football teams have been well received all over the republic.

Same Old City But Given New Name

CHRISTIANA, Dec. 1. (AP)—The Norwegian parliament having voted to change the name of this capital city of Norway to Oslo, all mail and cablegrams from all parts of the world should beginning January 1, 1925, be addressed to the new name.

The name Oslo is the revival of an old appellation. Christiana used to be called Oslo previous to 1642. The city was founded in 1048.

DIOGENES JR. IS IN MIDDLESBORO

Equipped With a Flashlight and Gum Shoes, He Searches For Honest Man.

What's In A Name?

Diogenes Jr. following in the footsteps of his illustrious father was in Middlesboro searching for an honest man. Armed with a flash light and wearing gum shoes he was progressing nicely with his work when the street car conductor's union called a strike. In despair Diogenes seized the Middlesboro telephone directory and continued his search. This is what he discovered.

There is a baker, a Butcher, one Butler, four Cooks, one Farmer, five Hoes, five Millers and one Shoemaker listed by the telephone company.

Those interested in the automotive world will be glad to know that we have among us five Carrs, two Ryders and three Walkers.

Insurance companies and coal dealers may find prospective customers among the following: Castle, Holmes, Chambers, Hall, Kitchen, Stairs and Tennent.

Lovers of the great out-of doors should cast an eye upon this list: Birch, Ivie, Oaks, Brooks, Poole, Stone, Beach, Moss, Hills Woods, Astor and Camp.

Those who listen to the dictates of fashion will notice that Brown, Browning, Green and White dominate this year.

At this point Romance comes flapping in on purple wings. Story book readers may view with bated breath and rolling eye the following; One Pearl, one Justice, a Parson followed by Chase, Rice and Blessing.

The sporting world will be interested in Bull, Batts, also two Gunns one Seal and a Wolf.

Ladies wishing to accomplish some good work before the Leap Year ends will look well before they leap upon such names as, Barker, Rhorcer Savage, Tanner, and Guy.

The rod and reel club should find such names as these eligible for membership, Pickrell, Salmon and Scales.

In his frantic search Diogenes reports one Mann and two Lady's also one Archer and two Bowmen.

The papers are filled with stories of Kentucky road work or lack of it these days and so such names as Dr. Ivan Rhodes old Dyke come in for their share of attention.

Fingering over the directory such contrasts as Large and Short are discovered. Hart Lipps and Nickels recall the old physiology lesson. And finally the omega, we have Neighbors, Surmann, Singer and Graves.

Diogenes closed the directory with a bang. Surely this is not the way to find my honest man. Bill Shakespeare was right when he said that "a prune by any other name would be as wrinkled." So Diogenes wiped off his flash light on his coat sleeve and set out to renew his search.

Use of White Flour Causes Poor Teeth

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Modern men have jaws that are too small and white flour is responsible for this deformity, according to Sir Harry Baldwin who recently addressed the Medical Officers of Schools associations on the necessity for the more general use of whole wheat bread among growing children.

The speaker declared that the small jaw was widespread, and of comparatively recent origin. The removal of vitamines from flour, he continued in order to produce white bread was a vicious practice which must be abolished. Otherwise children, especially the children of poor families which cannot afford a great variety of food, will continue to be underfed.

Dr. C. Shelley said, at the same meeting that in his opinion the use of the word "offal" to descrive the part of the wheat which is discarded in making white flour has been resopnsible for the prejudice against flour which is not white.

Prospect of Important Legislation Passing, Poor

WORK WEDNESDAY

President's Annual Address To Be Read To Solons Dec. 3rd.

BLOC STILL HOLDS

Session Adjourns Out of Respect to Deceased Members of Two Bodies — Annual Budget Received Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—The sixty-eighth congress assembled today for the farewell session with little prospect for transaction of any important business beyond the passage of annual appropriation bills. The opening session was brief. After a prayer by the chaplains the oath of office was administered to the new members.

The committees were named who were to inform president Coolidge that congress was ready to receive communications from him. Resolutions on the death of the members were presented and adopted during the recess.

Adjournment was then taken out of respect to the memories of the departed. While adjournment was taken until tomorrow, neither house really will begin work before Wednesday when President Coolidge's annual address is expected. The annual budget carrying the administration recommendations for appropriations are to be received Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—With the breach between the regular and insurgent republican organizations still further widened, the Sixty-eighth Congress, which already has established a record as the most turbulent in the nation's history reconvened today for its short and final session.

In the three months intervening before March 4, efforts will be made to put through some important general legislation in addition to the annual appropriation bills, but with little apparent prospect of still is held by the insurgents, success.

The key to the whole situation whose recognized leader, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, and his three chief supporters in the senate have been read out of the party councils by senate republicans. Whether they will undertake repris als for this action remains to be developed.

One thing is certain, the last chapter on this subject has not been written. Senators who have disagreed with this action of their republican colleagues intend to express their views when the senate is called upon to act on the report of the republican committee on committees covering the new assignments to standing committees to fill vacancies caused by the death of several senators during the last six months.

There is no occasion for the democrats of the senate to meet in party caucus and some of the minority leaders have stated that none would be called solely to consider the question of reading out of the party Senator La Follette's running mate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, Montana.

There will be little activity in either house until after receipt of President Coolidges' second annual message, which under present plans, will be transmitted by messenger on Wednesday and read in the house and senate by their respective clerks.

Early attention will be given by the house to the annual supply measures, the first of which, that for the interior department, probably will be reported out Tuesday. The appropriations committee has the work on others well under way and Chairman Madden hopes to get them all out before the first of the New Year.

While the house is thus engaged, the senate, under plans of the majority leaders, will take up such general legislation as the steering committee shall deem of the first importance. Admittedly, however, this plan is purely tentative and might easily be altered if the democrats and insurgents desire to do so.

Farm Aid Legislation

Farm aid legiation is one thing that leaders in both houses are anxious to put through, but early action is not in prospect, as congress probably will desire to await the report of the farm commission appointed by President Coolidge, that already has begun its work.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa one of LaFollette's leaders and one of those read out of the party by senate republicans, promised to give his support to such an administration measure.

"If the president," he said, "proposes a bill as efficient for the farmers as the railroad bill is for the railroads and the protective tariff bill is for the industries of the United States, it will have no more loyal supporter than myself. In fact, I am sure thta I will be much more loyal to such a policy than many of the distinguished senators who have assumed to read me out of the party."

Amendments to the transportation act make up other legislation for which there will be a demand from all sides in both houses. Bills affecting freight rates and pullman surcharges and providing for the abolition of the railroad labor board already are pending in one house or the other, and there will be determined efforts to bring them to the front.

Muscle Shoals Wednesday

Under an unanimous consent agreement entered into in the senate the last session, the Muscle Shoals question will come up in the senate Wednesday, but since Henry Ford has publicly announced the withdrawal of his offer for this power development project, the subject probably will be sent back to committee for consideration of the several new proposals which will be submitted early this week in the forms of bills.

The president's veto of the postal salary increase bill also is pending in the senate and there probably will be a move for early action. Many other matters are reposing on the senate calendar. In fact, there is enough legislation thereon to keep the senate busy for the three months regardless of any recommendations for new legislation which the president may make in his annual message.

Although ther will not be the vast number of investigations this session that marked the last, several inquiries will be pushed and other new ones will be inaugurated. Among those to be renewed are the internal revenue inquiry in the senate and the shipping board and aircraft investigations in the house. Reports are also expected to be coming soon on the investigations conducted during the last session including those intot the conduct of the department of justice, the operation of the "diploma mill," the leasing of the naval oil reserves and others.

Turks Try to Bar Foreign Languages

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Dec. 1. (AP)—Turkish nationalists have gone to extreme measures, according to information current in this city, in their endaevors to bar all foreign languages out of the country. In preparing new passports for the Angora government Turkish officials insist that not a word of any foreign language be used, and print all the documents in the Turkish script.

Business In Sophia Bears Heavy Burden

SOFIA, Dec. 1. (AP)—Bulgaria, like other countries in Europe, is paying off war reparations and obligntions, and on schedule time.

A resident of Sofia in the publishing business for 25 years, recently showed the correspondent how the money to do this was obtained. He turned to his books and revealed tax bills as follows: 1914, 371 leva; 1920, 5,800 leva; 1922, 10,200, and in 1923, 33,400.

PREPARES MAIL PILOTS FOR COLD

Mail Flying Bases Have Been Equipped With Winter Flying Facilities.

OMAHA, Dec. 1. (AP)—An unprecedented contingency for the United States government, that of operating the transcontinental air mail service throughout the winter months, will be met satisfactorily if the already completed plans of the government are carried out(according to Carl F. Egge, general superintendent of the air mail service.

Mr. Egge, at his headquarters here has announced that the cross-continent flying service will go on regular schedule, hampered only slightly, if at all, by snow storms and blizzards.

Every air mail flying base and emergency landing station has been equipped with winter flying facilities, "monkey suits" for pilots, stoves to heat water and gasoline, protection of beacon lights, and skiis to be attached to the landing gear in case heavy snowfall prevents the use of wheels.

The "monkey suit," Mr. Egge explained, has been adopted after extensive experimenting with various flying garments. The suit, "furline, included everything from helmet to socks. The electrically heated suit, the air mail chief said, transmits heat too rapidly, affording no even heat for the comfort of pilots.

In addition the cockpit of every plane will be heated by a pipe running from the engine parallel to, and on top of, the exhaust pipe. This new arrangement, the speaker declared, prevents fumes from entering the tonneau, as was the case when the cockpit was heated direct from the exhaust pipe.

All main beacon lights, from Hazelhurst f ield, New York, to San Francisco, Cal., have been equipped with plate glass housing, assuring pilots of adequate guiding lights even in the heaviest of storms.

Children's Golf Is Popular In Texas

DALLAS, Tex. Dec. 1. (AP)—Among the features included in the park facilities of Dallas is a nine hole golf links exclusive for children, which has turned in an attendance record report almost equal to that at the other municipal courses for adults.

The children's course which is about two-thirds as long as the average nine hole links, has seen between 1,800 to 2,000 boys and girls tee off each month since its organization. The combined attendance of the three municipal courses for grown ups was about 6,000 a month.

There is not much style on the children's course, and fewer clubs. No charge is made for playing, but the children can rent a club of some kind at a few cents, and balls sell at five cents each. The balls have been salvaged from the other links of the city and reconditioned.

Sao Paulo Suffered During July Revolt

SAO PAULA, Brazil, Dec. 1. (AP)—An official summary of casualties in this city during the revolution last July sets forth that 500 persons were killed by the bullets or shells of the besieging federal forces, and that the Red Cross aided 3,584 wounded. One thousand two hundred other persons were cared for at the House of Mercy.

Losses estimated at $8,000,000 were suffered by 103 commercial and industrial concerns. The rebels dug 319 trenches at different points in the city.

Mighty Lion Killer Fires Last Shot

CAPETOWN, Dec. 1. (AP)—"Yank" Allen, the terror of South Afgrican lions, has died here but only after he accounted for 258 of the beasts. Allen, who was a native of Texas, came to South Africa 17 years ago to rid the British South African company's ranches of lions. So well did he do his work that for the last ten years lions in the company's district became as abundant as bison on the American prairie.

REVAL MOB RAID GOV'T BUILDINGS

Hold Railway Station for Three Hours This Morning—Revolt Is Surpressed.

REVEL, Esthonia, Dec. 1. (AP)—Armed communists attacked certain of the government buildings here early today. According to officials the attack was immediately surpressed and order restored. No other disturbance is reported from other towns in the province.

M. Kark, minister of communications is reported wounded when the mob attempted to capture the telephone and telegraph office. Troops recaptured the railway station from the communists who held the place for three hours. Martial law has been proclaimed and troops are guarding all government buildings.

Swedes Interested In Smelting Method

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 1. (AP)—A new method of extracting steel and forge iron directly from crude iron ore, eliminating the blast furnace, as well as the pig iron state in reduction and lowering the cost of production by 50 per cent, has been evolved and is now being perfected, by the Swedish engineer G. H. Flodin, who is connected with the Ragfors Iron Works, a subsidiary of the Uddeholm Works, which ranks among the largest in Sweden.

While the method has been tried out experimentally and with success on a small industrial scale, no detailed information concerning its exact nature is given out by the inventor, pending practical tests on a larger scale. Iron and steel experts in Sweden agree that a successful adoption of the process wolud give Sweden unusual competive power in the world's iron markets because the Flodin method involves the use of electricity, which Sweden can generate at low cost.

U. S. Apples Sell Well In Berlin

BERLIN, Dec. 1. (AP)—Fancy apples in the first class shops have been selling here this fall as high as 90 cents each. They are from France, without blemishes, and apparently raised with great care.

American apples, chiefly from the Pacific northwest, were retailed here a year ago in great quantities but as yet none has appeared this season. Dealers say the American apples will be along for the holidays and the choicest ones will probably sell for 10 or 15 cents apiece. Ordinary apples, however, German-grown, may be purchased from the push cart dealers in the streets for from 10 to 15 cents a pound.

German City Plans To Reduce Taxes

AUGSBERG, Dec. 1. (AP)—This old city, once the scene for the coronation of German emperors, can boast of being one of the few German towns that are running without a deficit. The city treasurer has announced that for 1924 there will be a surplus of more than 2,000,000 gold marks in the treasury.

The city is so confident of being able to keep up its record that the aldermen have voted to use the surplus for reducing taxes—this in the face of the fact that the council has authorized an ambitious program of street railway extension building of a new city hospital and of a municipal market, and erection of an electric power plant.

One of the first taxes to be removed is that on beer. Augsburg is one of the chief cities of Bavaria, where popular parlance has it that children are raised on beer instead of milk. The removal of the local duty on beer is therefore likely to win many votes for aldermanic politicians.

French Prices Rise Over Pre-War Level

PARIS, Dec. 1. (AP)—Figures drawn up by the regional committees instituted by the government for the purpose of obtaining information as to the cost of living show thta prices in France are roughly four and one-half times what they were before the war.

MORE TROOPS TO EGYPTIAN TROUBLE ZONE

Situation Clearing But John Bull Has Eye Open.

BUILDING WRECKED

Gunfire Demolishes Structure Where Insurgent Soudanese Had Taken Refuge In Late Mutiny.

LONDON, Dec. 1.(AP)—Egypt has agreed to outstanding terms, previously unaccepted which were stipulated following the assasination of Sirdar Sir Lee Stack; it is learned on authoriative sources, advices from Lord Allenby, British Lord High Commissioner of Egypt having been received.

The situation in Egypt and the Soudan fronts remain quiet and further trouble in the Soudan is believed improbable. The mutiny of the small body of Soudnaese troops is directly to the influence troops is ascribed directly to the influence of officers influenced by propagandist of the Egyptians.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The situation is described as being "in good order," in dispatches to the foreign office yesterday from Viscount Allenby, British high commissioner in Egypt. Official dispatches from the Sudan likewise report conditions "easier and satisfactory."

Nothing, however, yet indicates the real origin of the Khartum mutiny, which took several hours to suppress.

By that time the building in which the mutineers took refuge was in ruins from gunfire and the mutineers separated into small parties. Some escaped to the surrounding towns, and others were arrested by the soldiers.

The government still is of the opinion that it will not be necessary to employ force, but the steady reinforcement of British troops in Egypt continues. The first batallion of buffs embarked from Gibraltar for Egypt today.

Cairo advices indicate that the new government is devoting itself to the preservation of peace, and that no reports of new incidents in the sudan have reached Cairo.

CAIRO, Dec. 1.—It is said here that Zaglout Pasha, the former Egyptian premier has obtained a passport for Europe and that he is likely to go to some French or Italian health resort.

CAIRO, Dec. 1.—The fourth batallion of Egyptian infantry arrived here today from Khartum and will be confined in the Abbassia barracks for a week.

No further arrests took place yesterday. The 34 men who previously had been taken into custody were interogated by the public prosecutor. A delegation of members of the chamber of deputies has protested to the prosecutor and the liberal constitutional party has published a manifesto protesting against arrests of members of the chamber.

WHEELER IS SAFE IN DEMOCRAT FOLD

No Effort Will Be Made at this Time to Formally Read Wheeler Out of the Party.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—There will be no effort at this time to formally read Senator Wheeler of Montana out of the democratic party. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, announced today in response to an inquiry whether senate leaders would follow the lead of republicans who have excluded from the party councils, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin with whom Senator Wheeler was associated on the independent presidential ticket. No occasion calling for a conference of the senate democrats, Robinson said.

WALDEN AND OTHERS

Banner headlines announce that Pinkie Walden has breezed off approximately 2,282 yards to date. That is a fine record Mr. Walden. Congratulations are in order.

Painter's canvass cannot offer a finer picture that that of a red-blooded American boy racing down the gridiron carrying the pigskin. But the picture does not end here. Sport writers and newspapers exploit the achievements of these athletic heroes until we sometimes wonder how it is that their hat bands ever stand the strain.

When a green "kid" is suddenly plunged into the limelight disastrous results follow. He may either neglect his lessons or again it may turn him into a young prig who struts his stuff on the campus before the admiring eyes of the girls.

Strange as it may seem, there are several other students who are in attendance at Knoxville high. Among these, there is a boy who has won honors through out the state in debating contests. Do you recall seeing his name in print? There is a girl in that same high school who is keeping house for a large family as well as maintaining a good average in her school work. Never a work do we hear of the ninety and nine.

This misplaced emphasis on the part of the public and the press does more to damage high school athletics and high school morale than any other element.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

WASHINGTON, Dec 1.—A newcomer to politics and to Washinton is William B Pine of Okmulgee, Okla, who broke all records for republican pluralities in that border state by piling up a total of about 145,000 votes over former Governor Jack Walton in the race for the senate seat vacated by the voluntary retirement of Senator Owen

A slight, rather youthful, dapper little fellow is Pine, who ran down to Washington a couple of weeks after election to look things over, pay his respects at the White House and get the lay of the land

Pine piled up a fortune running into the millions by riding the crest of the Oklahoma oil boom He doesn't look the part of a frontier oil wild-catter He doesn't brag and bluster. He looks more like an alert, wide-awake professional man: about five feet seven in height slender, smooth shaven, heavy brown hair carefully parted and roached neatly backward on the right side.

"I'M not a lawyer." Pine says, 'and I haven't any plans for solving the country's problems with a lot of news laws. I think we've got too many laws now.

"I've never held any public office before, and there isn't any other public office I ever wanted or would have The people of my state surely were kind to me, to pick for me the only office I ever had any desire to hold."

Although glad to have been elected to the senate, Pine isn't in any hurry to move to Washington.

"I don't expect to hunt a home here until next December" he said "I don't expect any special session of congress Business doesn't need any." Anyway, we can't legislate ourselves into prosperity"

WHILE on the subject of Oklahoma, it might as well be pointed out that Pine's election by a record-breaking majority, thereby giving the republicans both seats in the senate from a state until very lately considered solidly democratic, has heartened the G. O P. down there to the point where it is now demanding a seat at the cabinet table.

'Give Oklahoma a place in the cabinet and thereby put it solidly in the republican column," is the advice being dinned into President Coolidge's ears.

The post at which Oklahoma is now shooting is that of secretary of agriculture. John Fields, ex-farmer, ex-editor, now business man and banker of Oklahoma City, twice the republican candidate for governor, is the man proposed. Anything that can be done to oil the way for Fields' appointment, Pine and his friends are ready to do.

THE senate already is succumbing to the influence of the Dawes duodeen, or under-slung pipe.

Senator John Harreld may even undertake to introduce the Dawes smoke consumer into the Cherokee tribe of Indians as the latest pipe of peace.

Harreld is seeking some way to bring about a settlement of dispute among the Cherokees of Oklahoma which will permit the distribution of $60,000,000 in oil royalties, now locked up in Uncle Sam's safe.

Before settling himself to the job of drafting a bill to authorize distribution of this cash, he bought himself a Dawes type of pipe and a can of the blackest tobacco on the market with which to try out its efficacy as a source of inspiration.

WHO says Uncle Sam doesn't know the fitness of things. He even makes names count in diplomacy.

He has sent Ulysses and Trojan to represent us in the near east, where the original Ulysses and Trojan won their campaigns. Ulysses Smith and Trojan Kedding are, respectively, ministes and secretary at Tirana, capital of Albania!

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT public service corporations supply many of the necessities of modern business, among them is transportation.

THAT transportation is a most important necessity, but it is a necessity that has to fight morning, noon and night for its very existence.

THAT for the politicians to make a never-ending war on the public service corporations is unfair and never was fair.

THAT to continue to abuse unjustly for the sole purpose of electing themselves to office is wrong and always was wrong.

THAT this continual abusing of public service corporations by professional politicians should be stopped.

THAT in order to give the country more adequate passenger and freight service many railroads are operating many trains at a loss.

THAT is caused by too many regulations for them and too little for those who compete with them. The time is not far distant when the railroads will be forced to abandon efforts to handle local passenger and freight business in many sections, unless the people stop and think and act.

THAT there is quite a little difference between different kinds of transportation. Railroads run in bad weather, as well as good, they have set rules for the conduct of their business and live up to their rules, they do not tolerate inefficiency.

RAILROADS in fairness to themselves and the public should advertise the true facts about their business in every newspaper in the land.

High School Youth Claimed By Death

John Bowen Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B Tate died at the Brosheer-Brummett hospital at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Short funeral services were conducted at the home at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The remains were taken Sunday noon to Paris where burial services took place loadly.

John Tate died as the result of lock jaw which followed a bullet wound which he received accidently while he was on a hunting expedition with a friend. He was taken to the Brosheer-Brummett hospital and it was believed that he would recover but lock jaw developed which resulted in his death.

The high school will sorely miss the lad who was such a leading spirit in all activities in the school and on the playground. He was a member of the football squad. He made friends where ever he went and all who knew him were grieved to learn of his untimely death.

Capitol Reporters Avoid Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Newspaper correspondents in Washington usually are subjected to an avalanche of "handouts," as they affectionately term the formal press releases that come from organizations innumerable.

With the recent political campaign in full swing, headquarters of the major parties kept their typewriters and mimeographs busy turning out copy that appreciably increased the flow of free information.

The National Press Club, which is the focus point of the announcements, is unable to guage their number. Organizations that use them in quantity, as a rule, Practically all the government departments resort to this system to keep the public officially informed. Even the White House uses this channel occasionally. Sundry organizations have adopted the method as their own. Units for and against prohibition periodically issue press notices. In fact, well nigh every national body represented here brings the "handout" into play when desiring to impart some tidbit of information.

The Washington correspondents read enough of this material in a day to fill a fair-sized volume, and often get little real information for their pains.

Look Ahead 8 or 10 Years

If your boy is now nine, can you send him to college when he is eighteen? Don't say yes. If up until now you haven't laid aside any money. The only way to have money for an education or any other purpose is to create a fund by regular saving. Invest what you save with us,—for safety and generous earnings. You should save $6 a month or more to create a worthwhile education fund. But start with whatever you can and make it more as quickly as you can. $6 a month will mature with us in about 9 years and one month for $1,000.
